MEXICAN PEARL FISHING.

fornia is About $350,000.

The Annual Yield of the Gulf of Cali-

The agent of the English proprietors of the concession granted by the Mexican Republic for a monopoly of pearl fishing in the Gulf of California recently arrived in San Francisco and gave some interesting details of the present methods employed in their industry, which has continued ever since the occupation of the country in the time of Cortez. The whole coast of the Gulf of California abound in pearls, and the concessions control the entire territory. Until within the last few years native divers were employed, and the depth to which they could descend did not exceed 35 feet. With the introduction of diving apparatus the limit of depth was increased to 30 fathoms. The best divers could formerly remain under water not to exceed two minutes. A modern diver thinks nothing of a twohour stop in water 100 feet in depth, though at greater depths the stay is necessarily shortened on account of the enormous pressure of the superincumbent water. A diver when upon the floor of the ocean looks about for the oyster, which he tears from the object to which it is attached and places it in a small bag hanging to a rope, which is hanled into the boat at a given signal. Sometimes the number of oysters secured is large, at other times only a few are caught.

The diver does not confine himself to the pearl oyster alone, but if he sees a rare specimen of coral or a new species of shell he places it in his bag and sends it to the surface, where it becomes the property of the concession and the source of its large income.

Last year the value of the pearls harvested in Lower California was alone $350,000. In addition, 5000 tons of shells were exported, which were valued at $1,250,000 more. Pearl fishing is the entire occupation of the natives, and La Paz, the headquarters, a city of the peninsula with about 2000 inhabitants, is solely dependent upon the industry. The business is one of chance, and the pursuit is a fascinating one to the natives, who are born gam-

Every oyster does not contain its | deg., 44 min. E., and East Butte bears S. 30 pearl, and only at intervals, and rare ones at that, is a really valuable pearl discovered. The largest one ever found was about three-quarters of an inch in diameter and was sold in Paris to the Emperor of Austria for $10,000. Many black pearls are found in Lower in the second in the ground in California and are valued higher than a mound of stones, marked 3-1209. N. W. corthe pure white. The large majority are seed pearls and are only of moderate value. -S. F. Call.

Envelopes lined with tinfoil will possibly be a "fad" in the near future, if experiments with the Roentgen ray continue. It has already been demonstrated that the contents of a sealed letter, enclosed in the ordinary envelope, may be photographed. The Ganloi-, a French paper, has photographed such private matter in fifteen seconds. By using envelopes lined with tinfoil letter writers can defy the X rays in the hands of the inquisitive.

Senator Hanna gives his private secretary, Mr. S. A. Perkins, who entered politics as president of the Republican 37, the McMillen Silver Mining Compan College League a few years ago, and who was on duty at the New York headquarters of the Republican National Committee during the late campaign, $6200 a year, probably the largest salary drawn by any private secretary in the country. The amount | be barred by virtue of the provisions of the is none too great. Mr. Perkins is a statute. gentleman of culture, pretty well versed in political economy, and understands the political affairs of our country fairly well, and will undoubtedly act as confidential adviser as well as private secretary, thus preventing the senator from making many egregious blunders.-Ex.

The report of the "Darkest England" scheme for the Salvation Army for the last year shows that 3,231,917 nights' lodging; 2501 men were received into the factories, 411 into th first prison home, 11,895 provided with employment, temporary or permanent, and 1535 women and girls re ceived into rescue homes. Although there is no pretense of making the work self-supporting, the shelters for food and lodings received over $190, 000 from those sheltered; the city colony with many branches returned $170,000 toward an expense of $493, 000, and the farm colony, in spite o very many difficulties, came within $25,000 of meeting its expenditure of $250,000. -N.
